THE MARYLAND GAME LAW.—The following extracts from the Maryland game law will prove interesting to many of the sportsmen in this city and vicinity:

The ducking season begins on November 1 and continues until the following March. Shooting at night at wild fowl is prohibited, and the killing of such game from any vessel, boat, craft, canoe, sneakboat, sinkboat or any other craft, is prohibited, under a penalty of not less than $50 or more than $100. The use of a swivel gun is punishable by a fine of from $100 to $500. It is further provided that no person shall run for wild water fowl but three days to each week until January 12, that is, on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, and after the first day of January on Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday alone.

Partridges are not to be killed between January 15 and October 31, nor woodcock between February 1 and June 10, nor pheasants between February 1 and August 12. Rabbits are not to be killed in Wisconsin between January 15 and October 1. The killing of any mink, otter or muskrat is forbidden between March 15 and December 15. The killing of any insectivorous birds is prohibited at any time. The killing of any plovers or sandpeeps, partridges or quails between the first day of February and the first day of November is punishable with a fine of $5. Quails are not to be killed or trapped at any time between sunset and sunrise, under a penalty of $20. Wood or summer ducks must not be shot between January 1 and September 10. The possession of any birds in the time prohibited for their killing is prima facie evidence of a violation of the law.

Shooting of partridges is allowed in Prince George's county between October 20 and December 20.

English mocking birds are not to be killed or trapped at any time in Charles and St. Mary's counties.

FEAST OF TABERNALES.—The Hebrew Feast of Tabernacles began last evening at sunset, and will continue for a week, commemorating the time that the Israelites dwelt in tents in the wilderness. Palm branches and citron leaves are elevated in the synagogues. Many Hebrews erect temporary tabernacles in the open air adjoining their houses, where all meals are eaten by the families. Some of these are simple tents, while others are more substantial structures with a thatch of leaves or other light material. They are handsomely decorated with colored tissue paper or trimmed with leaves, overgreens and flowers. On the last day of the feast the last chapter of the Pentateuch is read in the synagogues, and special prayers are offered for an abundance of rain during the year. The feast is not specially observed in the reformed congregations, to which the synagogue in this city belongs. The usual Sabbath services were held in the Washington street synagogue this morning.

MURDER ON THE CANAL.—A fatal affray between canal boatmen occurred on the canal, near Cumberland, on Wednesday. A correspondent of the Baltimore Gazette gives the following account: "There was a collision on Wednesday last between the canal boats, the Three Brothers and the Snively, in Dougherty's wide water, three miles east of Cumberland. The crew of the former began to abuse a colored man named Robert Lake, the only man in sight on the other boat. Finally one of the former threw a stone at Lake which struck him on the head inflicting an injury from which he died in a few hours. Thomas McGinnis, one of the crew of the Three Brothers, left that boat at Oldtown and has not been heard of since. It is supposed that he threw the stone at Lake. The deceased lived at Williamsport and his remains were conveyed there for burial."

EXCURSION.—Our citizens are expecting quite an influx of visitors upon the excursion of the 25th inst. Mr. John A. Jones, manager of the enterprise, has been untiring in working it up. The train will leave Charlottesville at 5:40 Tuesday morning next, stopping at all stations, and reaching Alexandria at 9:45. Many citizens of Culpeper, Orange, and the adjacent counties, besides those nearer to this city, will join the party at their respective depots. The Agricultural Fair which opens next day (Wednesday) attracts doubtless a large proportion. The fare on the train is to be low, and the arrangements complete. Tickets are good to return until Thursday night. The popularity of the manager, so long and favorably known as a conductor on the route along which his excursion will run, is itself a guarantee of success.

THE AGRICULTURAL FAIR.—The approaching fair of the Woodland Agricultural Society forms a prominent topic of conversation on the street. Numerous applications for space in the fair grounds and grounds have been received, and the prospects are good for a full and creditable display. The cattle, horses and live stock generally are expected to commence arriving on Monday next, and the arrangements for their accommodation have been completed. The handsomely engraved certificates of merit will also be received by Monday or Tuesday, and be ready for distribution in ample time. The Woodland Association met at the house of Mr. N. W. Pierson, its secretary, this evening to make the final arrangements for the fair.

FOURTH WARD WORKINGMEN.—It was intended to organize a Workingmen's Club in the Fourth Ward, last night, and a meeting was called at the Friendship Engine House for that purpose. At the appointed time there were present Messrs. Meuser, Penn, Parcell, Coleman, and one party whose name was not known. The hall door was locked, however, and the two present were compelled to meet on the neighboring corner, where many denunciations were heaped upon the head of Dr. Johnson, who was supposed to have the key of the hall. A conversation was held upon the corner for some time, after which the faithful five, one by one, took their departure.

POLICE ITEMS.—The following cases were tried at the Mayor's office this morning.

Wm. A. Madella, colored, heretofore fined and assessed with costs, for breaking up two drums belonging to Bowden's Band, colored, had his case re-opened and the damages reduced to twelve dollars.
Lewis Washington and Nelson Page, both colored, for disorderly conduct and assaulting the mother-in-law of the former, were required to give security to keep the peace.
Edward Stewart, colored, for striking a colored woman and attempting to pick the pocket of another one, was committed for further examination.
George Swansbury, for drunkenness and disorderly conduct, was brought out of jail and discharged.

FIRE IN WASHINGTON.—A portion of the extensive flour and feed store of W. M. Galt & Co., near the B. & O. depot, in Washington, was destroyed by fire yesterday evening. The fire, which is supposed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion, was first discovered in a large body of hay, and required several hours for its extinguishment. The loss was about $4,500, and was fully covered by insurance.

THE WEATHER.—The nights and early mornings now are quite cool, and overcasts are not uncommon. Last night the weather was particularly cold, and passengers who came down from Round Hill, on the W. & O. Road, this morning, report quite a frost there. The middle of the day is still summer, and, sometimes, even hot.

On Saturday next W. W. Cole's Great Circus and Menagerie will exhibit in this city. It is highly spoken of wherever it has exhibited, and will no doubt draw a large crowd.

BRIEFED AT SEA.

LONDON, Sept. 22.—The steamer American, from Baltimore, arrived at Liverpool yesterday, bringing part of the crew of the St. Diego, from New York, Sept. 1st, for Liverpool, which was burned at sea and abandoned on the 24th inst. At 40 north. At the time of abandonment the Diego was breaking in two. The crew were rescued by the bark Arklow, from St. John, N. B., for Dublin, and part of them were transferred to the steamer American on the 24th inst.

The conservatives of New Kent county nominated Mr. Vaiden for the State Senate, but the convention of the party in the district of which New Kent forms a part, but in which New Kent was not represented, nominated Mr. B. E. Black.

F. W. Southall has received the conservative nomination for the House of Delegates from Prince Edward county.

The long disputed question about the "Fairfax delegate" has been settled by the nomination of Mr. R. L. Farr.

"They all do it" is the remarkable title of a book just published as the companion of "That Husband of Mine," and on the same order. We have received a copy from the bookstore of Mr. George B. French.

Blanton Denson's newspaper, the organ of the Louisville workmen, has stopped publication.

The live merchant, Henry Strauss, No. 66 and 68 King street, has received his stock of Boots, Shoes, Clothing and Hats, lately purchased at the East. He says he can sell a suit from $6 upward, and shoes he is selling dirt cheap. A call on Mr. Strauss, at his two stores, will convince any one that he has the largest stock in his line in the city, and as he buys them for cash, he can afford to sell them low. All he asks is a show, as he deals with his customers strictly on the square.
